

Dear IAAP Member,

On the 19th of June, the Library of Congress is hosting a symposium in honor of C.G. Jung and the Red Book, co-sponsored by the IAAP. As a special favor, members of the IAAP who are interested in registering for this very important event can do so before the general registration begins on the 17th of April.

Early registration is essential as the number of tickets is limited and interest is high.

Registration should be done via James Hutson at the Library of Congress at this address : jungsymp@loc.gov.

The program is given below and in the attached Word document.

Best wishes

Angela M. Connolly
